

International Journal of Innovation and Learning (IJIL)

Introduction: The objectives of the IJIL are to develop, promote and coordinate the development and practice of innovation and learning. The IJIL aims to help professionals working in the field, academic educators and policy-makers to contribute, to disseminate knowledge, and to learn from each other. The international dimension is emphasized in order to overcome cultural and national barriers and to meet the needs of accelerating technological change and changes in the global economy. IJIL is an outstanding outlet in which innovation and learning research will find a significant outlet and where results can be shared across institutions, governments, researchers and students, and also industry.

IJIL is indexed in Scopus (Elsevier) and Emerging Sources Citation Index (Clarivate Analytics) and many others.

Scope: IJIL scope covers the following areas.

- Organizational learning and development
- Knowledge creation and transfer
- Knowledge management model
- Innovativeness in an organization through practices and research
- Disruptive innovation
- Modeling innovation and learning within an organization
- New product and service development
- Pedagogical development for education and training
- Digital (electronic and mobile) learning

For more information and submission, the interested authors should visit the following web link- <https://www.inderscience.com/jhome.php?jcode=ijil>.

All submissions are completed through the journal's online system. See <https://www.inderscience.com/mobile/inauthors/index.php?pid=73>.

Editor in Chief: Kongkiti Phusavat, Ph.D.